EDUCATION

Bachelor of Science, Communication Disorders

Worcester State College, Worcester, MA
Summa Cum Laude

Master of Education, Speech Pathology

Northeastern University, Boston, MA
Phi Kappa Phi

Certificate of Clinical Competence in Speech-Language Pathology

American Speech-Language-Hearing Association

Doctor of Science, Speech Pathology

Boston University, Boston, MA
Areas of Focus: Instrumentation (acoustic & physiologic), Management,
Neuropsychology, & Psycholinguistics.
Doctoral Dissertation: "Control of Tracheoesophageal Voice Production"

AWARDS

Partners In Excellence Award

Partners Healthcare System, 1996

Certificate of Appreciation

Massachusetts Brain Injury Association, March 2002

Excellence In Teaching

Northeastern University, June 2003 (also nominated in 2008, 2009, 2011, and 2013)

Training in Grantsmanship for Rehabilitation Research (TIGRR)

University of North Carolina, January 2013

Rotary International Paul Harris Fellow (in honor of my research and service with families who are homeless)

Rotary International, July 2013

PROFESSIONAL EMPLOYMENT

October 1988-September 1997

Assistant Director of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology,
Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital

- inpatient and outpatient stroke/head injury/ pediatric/ videofluoroscopy/tracheostomy and ventilator dependency program development
- staff supervision and training
- quality assurance
- research design/implementation/dissemination
- conference presentations
- adult and pediatric patient care
- department development
- grant writing

March 1990-June 1997

Adjunct Assistant Professor, Northeastern University, Bouvé College,
Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology Department

- taught graduate courses “Clinical Management of Stuttering,” “Dysphagia,” “Neuropathologies,” and “Research Design”

June 1993-August 1993

Adjunct Clinical Supervisor, Northeastern University, Bouvé College,
Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology Department

- graduate student supervision of diagnostic evaluations and treatment

September 1997-present

Clinical Research Speech-Language Pathologist (part-time), Spaulding
Rehabilitation Hospital, Boston, MA

- evaluation, treatment, and research with individuals following traumatic brain injury of all ages primarily through Spaulding’s Traumatic Brain Injury Model System
- evaluation and treatment of individuals of all ages with swallowing disorders
- clinical- and research-based supervision of Northeastern University SLPA Department graduate students

September 1997-present

Assistant/Associate Professor, Northeastern University Bouvé College of Health Sciences, Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology Department
(SLPA) (promoted to Associate Professor July 2003)

- graduate and undergraduate academic teaching
- graduate and undergraduate student clinical supervision
- graduate and undergraduate student advising (e.g., for Case Conference presentations, Comprehensive Examinations, and course registration)
- research and scholarship (in multiple areas including family homelessness, swallowing, and traumatic brain injury, with accompanying research and presentation experiences extended to graduate and undergraduate SLPA students)
- community service (e.g., creation and implementation of a weekly language stimulation storytelling group for children at local homeless shelters, with ongoing training and supervision provided to SLPA graduate and undergraduate student group facilitators; professional committee work)

July 2002-present

Faculty Scholar/Affiliated Faculty, Northeastern University Institute on Urban Health Research, Dr. Hortensia Amaro, Director

April 2005-March 2010

Invited Member, American Speech-Language-Hearing Association Communication Sciences and Disorders Clinical Trials Research Group: Communication and Brain Injury Consortium

October 2006-June 2015

Program Director of Speech-Language Pathology, Northeastern University, Bouvé College, Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology Department

January 2012-September 2012

Interim Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology Department Chair, Northeastern University, Bouvé College, Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology Department
